Sud Sivaji, CEO da Aperam, comentou:

"Tenho orgulho em apresentar os resultados do 3.º trimestre de 2026, o melhor desempenho de um terceiro trimestre dos últimos quatro anos. Estes resultados, num contexto marcado pela sazonalidade e pela fraca procura na Europa, reforçam a importância do nosso trabalho e dos investimentos que estamos a realizar para expandir a presença da Aperam para além da Europa e da produção de aço inoxidável.

Um dos principais objetivos desta transformação reflete-se no nosso desempenho do benchmark em termos de geração de caixa: estamos construindo negócios que visam alcançar estruturalmente uma maior taxa de conversão de caixa, enquanto cadeia de valor integrada. A nossa dívida financeira líquida continuou a diminuir, mesmo no 3.º trimestre, e estamos bem posicionados para cumprir o nosso objetivo de redução do endividamento até ao final de 2027."
